Hiring Committee, Board of Directors
Native Inter-Tribal Housing Co-operative Inc.
37 Tecumseh Avenue West
London, ON N6J 1K8

Dear Hiring Committee:

Subject: Application for General Manager

Since April 1983, Native Inter-Tribal Housing Co-operative has given London's urban Indigenous community something the private market too often denied it: affordable, secure homes that members govern themselves. Please consider this application for the position of General Manager. Your Board needs a manager who can run daily operations, protect the co-op's finances, and carry out Board-approved strategies with care, and those are the core disciplines I bring from more than three years of non-profit and cultural program leadership.

Your 55 homes, from townhomes and single-family houses to a three-unit residential building, reflect four decades of growth from the co-op's original 20 units. Keeping them affordable now depends on long-term planning: CMHC's FCHI-2 rental assistance runs to March 31, 2028, and the expiry of earlier operating agreements showed how quickly affordability can change. Since 2014, most co-op evictions in Ontario have been decided by the Landlord and Tenant Board once the co-op's own process is complete, which makes fair, consistent, well-documented arrears procedures essential. Your commitment to member participation, democratic governance, and the international co-operative principles is the reason this role appeals to me.

Your co-op's finances would be in disciplined hands. At Emole Futures Initiative in Kingston, I build and baseline program budgets, monitor actual spending against plan, update expense reports on a regular cadence, and verify that supplier work is complete before payment. Supervision is part of the same role: recruiting, scheduling, and supervising program assistants and volunteer mentors, and presenting dashboards and summaries that turn financial and delivery data into clear decisions for the executive team.

Your maintenance and capital work would benefit from the same project discipline. At The Metropolitan Museum of Art, I coordinated collections and interpretation planning within the multimillion-dollar reinstallation of the Michael C. Rockefeller Wing, aligning five specialist teams and escalating risks early; the wing reopened on schedule in May 2025. At the Denver Art Museum, working with community advisors to shape exhibitions and programs taught me an approach that suits a co-op where members actively shape their community. Housing-specific knowledge, including FCHI-2 administration and Ontario co-operative legislation, is the area you can expect me to build first and fastest.

I would welcome the opportunity to meet with your Board to discuss how my experience can support your operations and long-term planning. Please contact me at 343-989-2373 or teminicrownpro@gmail.com. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Adekunle (Ade) Adeniji

PROJECT MANAGER | NON-PROFIT OPERATIONS AND PROGRAM LEADERSHIP

PROFILE AND OBJECTIVE

Objective: General Manager, Native Inter-Tribal Housing Co-operative Inc.

Non-profit project manager and program lead with more than three years of experience running program operations, budgets, staff and volunteer supervision, and supplier management for a Kingston community organization and major cultural institutions, including coordination within The Met's multimillion-dollar Rockefeller Wing reinstallation. Reports to leadership through clear dashboards and decision-ready summaries, follows agreed procedures consistently, and builds trust with community members, advisors, and partners. Committed to community-led organizations where the people served help shape decisions.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Financial stewardship: budget estimates and baselines, actual-versus-plan tracking, expense reports, and variance analysis
- Staff supervision: recruited, scheduled, and supervised program assistants and volunteer mentors
- Executive and governance reporting: dashboards, outcome summaries, and documented decisions for executives and partners
- Contractor and supplier management: quotes compared, terms confirmed, delivery checked against scope, payment after completion
- Capital project coordination: five specialist teams aligned within a multimillion-dollar museum reinstallation
- Records, intake, and procedures: requests screened for completeness; federal-standard documentation protocols applied
- Community relations: positive relationships with community advisors, partners, and participants under competing priorities

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Project Manager and Program Lead — 2025 – Present
Emole Futures Initiative Inc., Kingston, Ontario

- Defined program parameters, objectives, and deliverables with the executive team for the Black Youth in Business program, turning agreed priorities into a documented plan that schools, mentors, and community partners could follow.
- Built program plans and budget estimates and monitored actual spending on facilitator fees, materials, and events against the baselined budget, updating expense reports regularly so variances surfaced early.
- Recruited, scheduled, and supervised program assistants and volunteer mentors, routing each task to the right person so work reached the correct owner the first time.
- Compared supplier quotes, confirmed terms, and monitored facilitator and supplier delivery against agreed scope and cost, verifying completion before payment so the program paid only for work received.
- Reviewed incoming partner and participant requests for completeness, resolving information gaps before they could delay service.

- Escalated scope changes to leadership while they were still small enough to absorb, and documented decisions and next steps from planning meetings to keep the team aligned.
- Presented dashboards and outcome summaries to executives and external stakeholders, and evaluated results through a 27-question community intake survey that shaped the next program cycle.

Project Coordinator, Arts of Africa (Curatorial Residency) January 2025 – July 2025
The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, NY | Samuel and Gabrielle Lurie Fund Residency

- Coordinated collections and interpretation planning within the multimillion-dollar reinstallation of the Michael C. Rockefeller Wing, contributing to its on-schedule public reopening in May 2025.
- Aligned five specialist teams (curatorial, conservation, registration, education, and design), securing approvals on content, timing, and display before each deadline.
- Tracked versions, milestones, and deadlines through multi-stage review and approval cycles, keeping records accurate and deliverables synchronized with the installation schedule.
- Documented decisions from cross-team planning meetings and escalated schedule risks to senior staff early, giving decision-makers time to resolve issues before the opening date.

Exhibition Project Coordinator and Curatorial Fellow January 2022 – May 2023
Denver Art Museum, Denver, CO

- Coordinated deliverables and budgets across concurrent exhibitions with fixed opening dates, balancing competing priorities while tracking progress and expenses to keep results on schedule and within budget.
- Collaborated with community advisors to shape exhibitions and public programs, building their feedback into scope and content decisions so the work reflected the communities it served.
- Communicated scope and schedule changes to curatorial, education, design, and registration partners, keeping every team aligned as plans shifted.

Project and Curatorial Intern July 2021 – November 2021
Smithsonian National Museum of African Art, Washington, DC

- Applied federal-standard intake, documentation, and handling protocols across curatorial, conservation, and registration teams, keeping records complete, accurate, and compliant.
